Discovery Day: Modernizing legacy applications

This is an onsite workshop to inspire developers to identify opportunities for modernizing software, improve user experiences, and achieve significant cost savings from restructuring software.

Learn our approach

We share Mode2's approach to modernizing existing applications, how to analyze software portfolios and map to cloud native design patterns. We recommend opportunities for reinventing user experiences and integrating advanced cloud capabilities.

The business case for modernization

Mode2 demonstrates the components of the business case to justify a transformation, and shows how to forecast native solution TCO. We spotlight how teams can fund the expense of redeveloping software using savings in monthly labor and operating expenses.

Review an example project

We walk attendees through scenarios of how to take an existing application and rearchitect with cloud native architecture. Our team shows how to quickly carve out functionality from monoliths and begin modernizing today.

Whiteboarding on new projects

We review what was learned in the workshop and whiteboard on how to apply it to current initiatives. We identify potential areas for modernization, and discuss options for future state software architectures.
